Deo Optimo Maximo [The Best to the Most High God]

To the Holy and Pious Memory of Robert Marriott Professor of Very Sacred Theology Vigilant Pastor of this Church

A man who by his work of Divine Preaching and by the solemnity of his Prayer was able both to soothe and to convince the souls of his hearers. Who joined together the ancient and most sacred Morals with the simplicity of Grace and who by the example of his most flawless life both confirmed and commended what he taught by his words. He journeyed to the Heavenly Country on May 14 in the 1689th year of the Christian Era, the 81st of his life.

Here, moreover, next to Robert's most devoted wife Martha, are placed the remains of their two children, namely, Robert Marriott of Grays Inn, Armiger, and Elizabeth, most beloved wife of William Pett (neu.) and Mother of his two children. This monument to the four of them William Pett, citizen of this City and Pharmacist, always devoted to his father-in-law, has erected out of devotion and in tears.

Arms: Barry of six Or and Sable [for MARRIOTT] impaling a fess embattled between six roundles.
